Physician Workforce in Nevada: A Chartbook – January 2020

Key Findings and Highlights

Physician Workforce Supply in Nevada: A Chartbook provides current data on the supply and geographic distribution of physicians in Nevada. The Chartbook was prepared by the Nevada Health Workforce Research Center in the Office of Statewide Initiatives at the University of Nevada, Reno School of Medicine.

Drawing on a wide range of state and federal data sources, the figures in the Chartbook contain information on the physician workforce in Nevada, including state physician workforce rankings, number of physicians per capita, recent trends in the geographic and specialty distribution of the physician workforce, retention of physicians who have completed residency and fellowship programs, and primary care shortage areas in Nevada.

Physician Workforce State Rankings

According to data published by the American Association of Medical Colleges in 2019:

- Nevada's rank among U.S. states is currently 45th for active physicians per 100,000 population, 48th for primary care physicians per 100,000 population, and 50th for general surgeons per 100,000 population (Figure 1).
- Currently, 27.3% of active physicians in Nevada possess a medical degree from another country (rank of 8th among U.S. states), 29.6% are aged 60 or older (38th), and 29.1% are female (44th) (Figure 1).
- Nevada currently ranks 25th among U.S. states for the number of undergraduate medical students per 100,000 population. However, Nevada ranks 44th for the number of residents and fellows per 100,000 population (Figure 1).
- Nevada ranks 20th among U.S. states with 41.6% of physicians completing undergraduate medical education (UME) in Nevada and who are actively practicing in Nevada (Figure 1).
- Nevada ranks 6th among U.S. states with 54.6% of physicians completing graduate medical education (GME) in Nevada and who are active in Nevada (Figure 1).
- Nevada ranks 9th among U.S. states with 76.5% of physicians completing both UME and GME in Nevada and are actively practicing in Nevada (Figure 1).

Licensed Physicians in Nevada

According to licensure data from the Nevada State Board of Medical Examiners and the Nevada State Board of Osteopathic Medicine retrieved on July 1, 2019:

- There are 6,801 physicians (MDs and DOs) with an active license to practice in Nevada. In 2019, 4,890 are located in Clark County (71.9% of all physicians), 1,474 in Washoe County (21.7%), 180 in Carson City (2.6%), and 257 in the state's 14 rural and frontier counties (3.8%) (Figure 2).
- In 2019, the number of licensed physicians per 100,000 population ranges from 25.0 in Lyon County to 320.2 in Washoe County. Three counties – Esmeralda County, Eureka County, and Storey County – have no licensed physicians (Figure 3).
- Currently, there are 215.7 licensed physicians per 100,000 population in Clark County, as compared to 320.2 licensed physicians per 100,000 population in Washoe County. In 21 of 36 specialty areas, per capita rates in Clark County are below the state average, including family medicine, emergency medicine, and psychiatry (Figure 3).
- In 2019, 16.7% of the physician workforce are osteopathic physicians (DOs) and 83.3% are allopathic physicians (MDs). Approximately half of DOs list primary care specialties (48.5%), as compared to 42.7% of MDs who report primary care specialties (Figure 4).

Federal and Non-Federal Physician Workforce in Nevada

According to data available through the Health Resources and Services Administration's (HRSA) Area Health Resource File (AHRF):

- In 2017, there were 7,963 physicians (MDs and DOs) in Nevada – 7,668 were Non-Federal physicians (96.3%) and 295 were Federal physicians (3.7%) (Figures 5 through 8).
- From 2010 to 2017, the number of actively practicing physicians in Nevada increased by 1,142 or 22.0% the number of physicians per 100,000 population only increased by 13.9%. However, in 16 of 42 specialty areas (e.g., anesthesiology, dermatology, gastroenterology, obstetrics/gynecology), the growth in the number of physicians did not keep pace with population growth (Figure 9).
- The number of physicians per 100,000 population in Nevada is lower than the U.S. rate for every medical specialty except for forensic pathology. Based on a rate of 212.4 physicians per 100,000 population, Nevada would need an additional 2,592 physicians to meet the national rate of 309.4 physicians per 100,000 population (Figure 10)

- Based on a rate of 204.7 physicians per 100,000 population, Clark County would need an additional 2,188 physicians to meet the national rate of 309.4 physicians per 100,000 population (Figure 10).
- To meet the national average by medical specialty, Nevada would need an additional 288 family medicine physicians, 244 pediatricians, and 174 psychiatrists. Similarly, Clark County would need an additional 303 family medicine physicians, 162 pediatricians, and 148 psychiatrists to meet national rates by medical specialty (Figure 10).
- In 2017, the average age of a physician in Nevada (MDs only) is 55.1 years – among active physicians, the average age is 50.7 years versus an average age of 74.6 among inactive physicians (Figure 11).
- The average age of the physician workforce varies considerably by medical specialty. For example, the average age of emergency medicine physicians is 48.3 years, family medicine physicians is 50.6 years, anesthesiologists is 51.8 years, psychiatrists is 54.7 years, gastroenterologists is 54.7 years, and neurologists is 55.5 years (Figure 11).

Graduate Medical Education (GME) in Nevada

Each year, the Nevada Health Workforce Research Center, undertakes a survey physicians completing graduate medical education (GME) programs in Nevada. Highlights from the 2019 survey include:

- In 2019, 183 physicians completed GME in Nevada – 134 in southern Nevada and 49 in northern Nevada – 45.4% indicated that they will remain in Nevada to begin clinical practice or continue training, as compared to 54.6% who will leave the state (Figure 12).
- Approximately one in five physicians completing GME in 2019 (21.3%) are leaving Nevada for additional subspecialty training that does not exist or is in short supply in Nevada (Figure 12).
- Retention rates in southern Nevada (44.8%) are not appreciably different than northern Nevada (46.9%) (Figures 13 and 14).
- In 2019, the average debt of a physician completing GME in Nevada was $183,500. Excluding physicians with no level of debt (37.8% of graduates), the remaining physicians are carrying some level of debt averaging $306,500 (Figure 15).
- The level of debt for those reporting any debt has exceeded $250,000 for the past five years and topped $300,000 for the first time in 2019 (Figure 15).

- In 2019, 183 physicians completed residencies and fellowships in Nevada – the number increased by 108 or 144.0% since 2010 (Figure 16).
- In 2019, 115 physicians completed primary care residencies in Nevada – the number of physicians completing primary care residencies in Nevada has increased by 76 or 194.9% since 2010 (Figure 17).

Primary Medical Care Health Professional Shortage Areas (HPSAs) in Nevada

According to data managed by the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA):

- Currently, an estimated 2,026,181 Nevadans or 67.3% of the state’s population reside in a federally designated primary care health professional shortage area (HPSA) (Figure 18).
- Ten of 17 counties in Nevada are single-county primary care HPSAs, including 11 of 14 rural and frontier counties (Figure 19).
- In urban northern Nevada (Carson City and Washoe County) an estimated 383,589 northern Nevadans or 74.5% of the region’s population resides in a primary care HPSA (Figure 20).
- In southern Nevada (Clark County) an estimated 1.4 million residents or 63.7% of the county population reside in a primary care HPSA (Figure 21).
